Congressional Record on Reproductive Freedom

FREEDOM IS FOR
EVERYBODY

For over 50 years, NARAL Pro-Choice America has fought to protect and advance reproductive freedom at the federal and state levels—including access to abortion care, birth control, pregnancy and post-partum care, and paid family leave—for every body.

NARAL is powered by its more than 2.5 million members from every state and congressional district in the country, representing the 8 in 10 Americans who support legal abortion.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD ON REPRODUCTIVE FREEDOM 117TH CONGRESS, 1ST SESSION

NARAL Pro-Choice America's 2021 Congressional Record on Reproductive Freedom documents the key House and Senate votes taken on this issue during the first session of the 117th Congress.

2021 began with the world still in the grips of the COVID-19 pandemic and a violent and deadly insurrection in the U.S. Capitol as lawmakers met to certify the historic election of President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, the first woman and person of color to serve in this role in U.S. history. The assault on the Capitol was a direct result of Trump stoking fear, spreading disinformation, and emboldening anti-democratic white supremacists. Anti-choice extremists were openly complicit in Trump's efforts to undermine our democracy, and continue to play an important role in the disinformation networks that led to this moment in which our democracy and our fundamental rights are at risk.

Despite a Democratic administration and Democratic majorities in the House and Senate, the legal right to abortion faces its greatest threat in decades. The anti-choice, anti-freedom supermajority on the Supreme Court—created by the confirmations of three Trump justices—is poised to end the fundamental right to abortion as we know it. By agreeing to take Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, a case about Mississippi's 15-week abortion ban that directly challenges Roe v. Wade, and by failing to block Texas Senate Bill 8 (SB 8), a blatantly unconstitutional vigilante ban on abortion, this Supreme Court has signalled its willingness to overturn Roe. This moment of crisis is the culmination of the decades-long barrage of state abortion bans and restrictions pushed by the anti-choice movement and enacted by anti-choice politicians. It is another ominous sign for our democracy that we could lose a fundamental right that has been recognized in our country for decades and despite the fact that 8 in 10 people in this country support the legal right to abortion.

Rising to meet this crisis, Speaker Nancy Pelosi and reproductive freedom champions in Congress took action to advance the Women's Health Protection Act (WHPA)—a bill that would safeguard the federal right to abortion against bans and medically unnecessary restrictions, even should Roe fall. On September 24, 2021, the U.S. House of Representatives passed WHPA in an historic vote. This was the first time ever that Congress voted on proactive, standalone legislation to protect abortion rights. Importantly, the Biden Administration released a Statement of Administration Policy expressing strong support for House passage of WHPA.

President Biden's support for WHPA built upon actions early in his presidency to advance reproductive freedom and begin to undo the harm done by the Trump administration. Upon taking office, the president took executive action to end the global gag rule, roll back the domestic gag rule, restore funding for the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), and withdraw the United States from the anti-choice, anti-LGBTQ Geneva Consensus Declaration. The administration also hit the ground running with the nominations of executive and judicial nominees with demonstrated records supportive of reproductive freedom.

2021 marked historic advances for reproductive freedom in the President's budget and congressional appropriations bills. These advances would not have been possible without the strong leadership of the reproductive justice movement whose tireless work has brought us closer to a future where access to abortion care doesn't depend on how much money someone earns, how they are insured, or where they live. President Biden's budget proposal excluded, for the first time in decades, the Hyde amendment ban on coverage of abortion care for people who get their health insurance through Medicaid, and advanced multiple other reproductive freedom priorities. The House and Senate introduced spending bills that: 1) excluded the Hyde amendment abortion coverage bans; the DC abortion ban, which prohibits DC from using its own, locally raised funds to provide insurance coverage of abortion; and the Weldon amendment, which allows a broad range of individuals and institutions to deny abortion care, coverage, and referrals;

2) permanently blocked the global gag rule; and 3) increased funding for critical reproductive health programs.

In addition, the reproductive freedom, Democratic majority in the House passed multiple pieces of legislation that would advance civil rights and gender equity. Early in the year, the House once again voted in favor of statehood for the District of Columbia, a necessary first step to ensure full rights and representation for residents of Washington, DC. As a state, DC would finally be able to eliminate barriers to reproductive healthcare imposed by Congressional Republicans who have long restricted abortion access in the nation's capital. The House also passed the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act to end employment discrimination based on pregnancy. Additionally, the House passed legislation to address the raging COVID-19 pandemic and provide critical health care programs and economic resources to communities and families across the country, including investments in maternal health and paid family leave.

The Democratic majority in the Senate filled dozens of vacancies on the federal judiciary with nominees committed to upholding our most fundamental rights, including many with a demonstrated record of protecting reproductive health, rights, and justice. Nonetheless, anti-choice senators hijacked consideration of critical legislation—including the CARES Act, which addressed the COVID-19 public health emergency and economic crisis—by introducing dozens of amendments that sought to restrict reproductive freedom.

With Roe hanging in the balance and an onslaught of attacks on abortion access across the country, politicians who jeopardize reproductive freedom should be on notice: Voters will hold them accountable at the ballot box for putting our fundamental rights in peril by electing officials up and down the ballot who will seize the opportunity to protect and advance abortion access and reproductive freedom. The 8 in 10 Americans who support the legal right to abortion will turn out to ensure that every body has the freedom and resources to make their own personal decisions about their lives, bodies, and futures, free from political interference.
